

NEWS FROM THE CHAIR & GENERAL MANAGER

Information regarding Phase 2 of New York's reopening plan

Dear Colleagues,

Today, Mayor Bill de Blasio announced that effective this Monday, June 22, New York City will enter Phase 2 of the Moving New York Forward reopening plan. Among other things, entering Phase 2 permits offices, such as NYCHA's Central Office locations, to begin to allow staff to return to the office. Although New York City is entering Phase 2, NYCHA staff who are currently temporarily working remotely should continue to temporarily work remotely, and will not yet be asked to return to the workplace. NYCHA will provide at least two weeks' notice to staff as to when they are expected to report back to the workplace. As NYCHA continues to work toward reopening, please keep an eye out for communications regarding next steps. Until then, please continue to be safe and healthy.

Thank you,
Greg Russ
Chair & Chief Executive Officer

Vito Mustaciolo
General Manager